Financial Policy

We are committed to providing you with the best possible medical care; if you have special needs; we are here to work with you. The following information is provided to avoid any misunderstanding or disagreement concerning payment for professional services.

Our office participates with a variety of insurance plans. It is your responsibility to:

- Bring your insurance card at every visit.
- Be prepared to pay your copay at each visit. Payment can be made by cash, check, or credit card.
- For medical care not covered under your insurance, payment in full is due at the time of visit.

If you have insurance that we do not participate in, our office is happy to file claim upon request; however, payment in full is expected at time of service.

If you are an obstetrical patient, you will meet with our OB Coordinator on your first visit to set up a financial agreement and again on your 32nd week to re-review your financial history.

Referrals: It is your responsibility to bring any required referrals for treatment, at or prior to the visit. If you do not have the referral, your visit may be rescheduled, or you may be financially responsible.

If the patient is a minor (18 years or younger) the parent or guardian must sign below. The parent, guardian or unaccompanied minor is responsible for any payment due at time of service, bringing the necessary referrals and insurance cards.

If you have questions about your insurance, we are happy to help you. Specific coverage issues, however, should be directed to your insurance company member services department (number is on the insurance card).

Our practice firmly believes that a good physician/patient relationship is based upon understanding and good communications. Questions about financial arrangements should be directed to the physician's office.

Please sign that you have read and agree to this Financial Policy.

Consent Agreement

Consent to the Use and Disclosure of Health Information for Treatment, Payment or Healthcare Operations

I ______________________________, understand that as part of my healthcare this practice originates and maintains health records

- A basis for planning my care and treatment.
- A means of communication among the many health professionals who contribute to my care.
- A source of information for applying my diagnosis and surgical information to my bill.
- A means by which a third-party payer can verify that services billed were actually provided, and
- A tool for routine healthcare operations such as assessing quality and reviewing the competence of healthcare professionals.

I understand if I wish to obtain a copy of The Notice of Privacy Practices that provides a more complete description of information uses and disclosures, one will be made available for me. I understand that I have the right to review the notice prior to signing the consent. I understand that the organization reserves the right to change their notice and practices and prior to implementation will make a copy available. I understand that I have the right to object to the use of my health information for directory purposes. I understand that I have the right to request restrictions as to how my health information may be used or disclosed to carry out treatment, payment, or healthcare operations and that the organization is not required to agree to the restrictions requested. I understand that I may revoke this consent in writing, except to the extent that the organization has already taken action in reliance thereon.

Consent for Pelvic Examination

According to The American College of Obstetricians and Gynecologists, the pelvic examination is part of the evaluation of women presenting with many common conditions, including pelvic pain, abnormal bleeding, vaginal discharge, and sexual problems. Pelvic exams—both in the office and while under anesthesia— are also an important part of evaluation for gynecologic procedures to ensure safe completion of the planned procedure. Often, a pelvic examination is performed for women without symptoms while looking for gynecologic cancer, infection, and pelvic inflammatory disease.

- A pelvic examination is an assessment of the external genitalia; internal speculum examination of the vagina and cervix; bimanual palpation of the adnexa, uterus, and bladder; and sometimes rectovaginal examination.
- Reasons for a pelvic exam can include (but are not limited to) health screening, abnormal bleeding, pelvic pain, sexual problems, vaginal bulge, urinary issues, or inability to insert a tampon. Other indications include patients undergoing a pelvic procedure (e.g., endometrial biopsy or intrauterine device placement). Also, pelvic examination is indicated in women with current or a history of abnormal pap results, gynecologic cancers, or toxic exposures.
- The potential benefits of a pelvic examination include the detection of vulvar, vaginal, cervical, uterine, and ovarian cancers and precancers, yeast and bacterial vaginosis, trichomoniasis, and genital herpes, early detection of treatable gynecologic conditions before symptoms begin occurring (e.g. vulvar or vaginal cancer), as well as incidental findings such as dermatologic changes and foreign bodies. Additionally, screening pelvic examinations in the context of a well woman visit may allow gynecologists to explain a patient's anatomy, reassure her of normalcy, and answer your specific questions.
- The potential risks of a pelvic exam may include (but are not limited to) fear, anxiety, embarrassment (reports ranged from 10% to 80% of women) or pain and discomfort (from 11% to 60%).
- There are few alternatives to pelvic examination, the alternatives are not as effective for providing diagnostic or evaluative information and carry their own set of potential risks. If you have concerns, you should discuss with your healthcare provider.

I ______________________________ understand that this Patient Consent Form is required by law. I understand that I need to sign this form to show that I am making an informed decision to have pelvic examinations and I have read and understand the above.

The provider or their delegate has explained to me the nature, purpose, and possible consequences of each procedure as well as risks involved, possible complications, and possible alternative methods of treatment. I also know that the information given to me does not list every possible risk and that other, less likely problems could occur. I was not given any guarantee from anyone about the final results of this procedure.
